Portfolio Structure

Substantial positions may be taken in intermediate-term and short-term taxable bonds. Relatively small allocations are made to high-yield and global fixed income. In addition, substantial allocations are made to various domestic equity subclasses, as well as international equities and alternative investments such as real assets and absolute return. Investors should understand that the pursuit of these objectives with this allocation will involve a moderate level of principal volatility.

Firm Overview

Brinker Capital is an investment management firm and one of the nation's leading independent providers of managed account and mutual fund investment services. Through our innovative investment products, we seek to provide real purchasing power for investors and sustainable purchasing power for future generations. Brinker Capital was founded in 1987 by Charles Widger and is located in suburban Philadelphia. Brinker Capital Inc., a registered investment advisor.

Index/Benchmarks: Brinker Capital constructs the index benchmark to match, to the best of its ability, the components of the investment strategy to the appropriate indices so as to reasonably parallel the asset allocation of the investment strategy. The benchmarks are provided for comparative purposes only and are not intended to parallel the risk or investment style of any particular ETF or mutual fund included in the investment strategy or reflect guidelines, restrictions, correlations, concentrations, sector allocations or volatility of the portfolio of any such mutual fund. Figures for the indices included in the index benchmark reflect the reinvestment of dividends but do not reflect any fees or expenses which would reduce returns. Indices are unmanaged and an investor cannot invest directly in an index.

The holdings supplied are a complete list as of 12/31/2013. These may change prior to investment and are subject to change at any time. Allocations may not add to totals due to rounding of asset class and fund allocation percentages.

However, Brinker Capital believes that annual rebalancing of the hypothetical account for purposes of back-testing performance of the investment strategy will provide the closest approximation of the performance of an account invested in the investment strategy. From June 1, 2011 going forward, the performance information represents the performance of model portfolios created to track performance. The model portfolios will be rebalanced in sync with actual participant portfolios, and Brinker Capital expects that their performance should give a reasonable approximation of the performance achieved by participants within each strategy. No representation that any client accounts have achieved this performance is intended. Since Brinker Capital retains full discretion to add or replace ETFs and mutual funds in which the account is invested, the hypothetical performance of the investment strategy, after giving effect to any such future changes, will likely be different from the performance reported herein. Furthermore, past performance of the ETFs and mutual funds included in the investment strategy is not a guarantee of future results. Mutual fund and ETF performance information is based upon published performance of the mutual funds and ETFs, which must be calculated by the funds in accordance with rules and regulations promulgated by the Securities and Exchange Commission. The performance information included herein should only be utilized as a generalized indicator of an investment strategy's historical hypothetical performance based upon the current allocation of assets for such investment strategy versus comparable indices and should not be used by a prospective investor for any other purposes. Fees: The performance information does not reflect the deduction of advisory fees payable to Brinker Capital and any other expenses for services not covered by the advisory fee that an investor may incur, which will reduce a client's return. Brinker Capital charges one comprehensive fee for investment management services, which includes manager and fund due diligence, asset allocation, manager fees, custody fees and trading expenses and solicitor fees. Brinker Capital's fee does not include the internal management fees and operating expenses of mutual funds in which a client's account is invested, which are reflected in the performance information contained herein. Brinker Capital's fees are disclosed in Part 2A of its Form ADV. The net effect of the deduction of Brinker Capital's fees on annualized performance, including the compounded effect over time, is determined by the relative size of the fee and the account's investment performance. The chart to the right depicts the effect of a 1% management fee on the growth of one dollar over a ten year period at 10% (9% after fees), 5% (4% after fees) and 3% (2% after fees) assumed rates of return.

Estimated Beta: The Estimated Beta is a forward looking estimate of our current beta based upon current portfolio positioning. Historical Beta: A measure of a portfolio's sensitivity to market movements. Sharpe Ratio: A measure of a portfolio's excess return per unit of risk. Maximum Drawdown: The peak to trough decline of a portfolio during a specific period. Performance Data: Brinker Capital does not have composite historical performance information for the RPS ETF Based Models prior to June 1, 2011. The performance results contained herein do not represent the actual trading or investment performance of actual accounts invested in accordance with the investment strategy but were produced through the retroactive application of the investment strategy using the allocations to ETFs and mutual funds included in the investment strategy as currently configured, which was developed with the benefit of hindsight. The performance information presents back tested performance of a hypothetical account invested in the investments included in the investment strategy (or proxy therefor) based upon the allocations established by Brinker Capital as of June 1, 2011. *Designates periods that include hypothetical performance.
